

Accord Reached On Atlantic Pact Defense Clause

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—The seven nations negotiating an Atlantic security treaty are understood to have reached substantial agreement on the draft of a defense clause, covering action in event of an attack.

This has been the greatest single issue between the United States and western European governments in the long negotiations which opened last summer. The accord now reported is regarded by diplomats as clearing the way for prompt completion of the pact, probably in about two weeks. While the wording is still secret, the basic provisions are understood to make these two points:

1. An armed attack on any one of the Atlantic powers shall be considered as an attack on all of them and each country undertakes to assist in meeting the attack in line with its rights of self defense under the United Nations charter.

2. Each country will decide for itself the particular actions, including possible use of armed forces, that it will take in meeting the attack.

These principal provisions would be reinforced by other articles. These articles would provide for almost continuous consultation among the members of the Alliance, and for coordinated defense planning once the treaty comes into force. The idea is to anticipate any emergency which might arise. At the moment of action each country could determine its own measures in relation to the general plan already worked out.

The joint defense pledges drafted along these lines reportedly fall short of the original proposals of some of the western European powers. They would have preferred an automatic commitment meaning that the United States would go to war in case any one of them was attacked by Russia.

However, neither the United States nor some of the other nations could constitutionally make such a war pledge. Under the formula now worked out Congress would retain full right to decide on that ultimate step. However, diplomats believe the text, which is soon to be made public, will be so strongly worded as to give the world a clear declaration of the joint intention of all the member countries to resist any aggression.

Reds Claim Vatican Is Stirring Up War

Bulgarian Minister Aims
Blast At Churches

By DIMITER MISHEV

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 24 (AP)—Foreign Minister Vasil Kolarov told the Bulgarian parliament last night that the Vatican is linked with "dark forces" attempting to stir up a new world war.

He made his charges as the Communist-controlled legislative body considered new restrictions on religion. The proposed new religion law came up as the hour of trial approached for 15 Protestant clergymen accused of criminal activities against the state.

The 15 include the heads of the Methodist, Baptist, Congregational and Pentecost churches in Bulgaria. They go into court tomorrow, charged with treason, spying for the United States and Great Britain and illegal money dealings.

The Kolarov-sponsored religion bill would make the Greek orthodox church the "only people's church" in the country. It would give the foreign ministry tight control over connections between church groups in the country and groups outside Bulgaria.

Kolarov asserted that the Vatican "does not conceal its ambition. It is the unreconcilable enemy of the Soviet Union People's Democracies and Communism. It is all together in the service of dark forces which today are attempting to fan up a new world war."

Kozaren Confirmed As New Chairman Of Liquor Commission

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Two Detroit Democrats were reported today to have failed in a move to block the Senate confirmation of John J. Kozaren of Hamtramck as Governor Williams' new state liquor control commission chairman.

The Senate by a 30 to 0 vote eventually confirmed Kozaren in secret session.

Reports leaking from behind the closed doors said that Senators Charles S. Bonny and Robert A. Haggerty, both Detroit Democrats, sought to send the Kozaren confirmation back to committee for "investigation." The chamber reportedly voted 11 to 17 on the motion.

ALARM TOO LATE

Pentwater (AP)—Mrs. Nettie Johnson ran a quarter of a mile to give the alarm when her house caught fire, but she was too late. The house and all its contents were destroyed even though firemen arrived within 12 minutes.

President Launches Bond Drive, Talks At Two Victory Dinners

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—President Truman tonight is scheduled to address two Jefferson-Jackson day victory dinners. He is expected to get in a plug for his domestic program.

The president last night addressed another dinner, launching the new $1,040,000,000 savings bond drive set for May 16-June 30. He told campaign workers that as long as their kind exists "we are good for 1,000 years."

Tonight he will dine at the Mayflower Hotel and make a brief informal talk at a dinner presided over by Rep. McCormack of Massachusetts, House floor leader. Later the president will go to the Statler hotel for a formal address at 1:30 p. m. EST. Senator Lucas of Illinois, Senate floor leader, will be toastmaster there. The talk will be televised and broadcast.

The dinners are held primarily to celebrate the Democratic November election victory.

Secretary of the Treasury Snyder announced the bond quota, the first to be set for a postwar bond campaign, at last night's dinner attended by approximately 150 leaders in the fields of finance, industry, agriculture, labor, education and newspaper publishing.

Snyder said the seven-week drive will be the "most all-embracing enterprise of its kind ever attempted in this country during peace-time."

The last two war-end loan drives had quotas of four and two billions respectively and in each case "we almost made it," Snyder said.

The government's position has not been made clear. The president told a news conference recently he had not made up his mind.

Acheson's meeting with the House Republicans today was the result of their requests for clarification.

Foreign capitals probably had their eyes also on the Senate finance committee, working on a reciprocal trade bill. This measure, as favored by the administration, would allow the president to reduce import duties as much as 50 per cent in return for similar concessions from other nations.

Those opposing the plan—and Senator George (D-Ga.) conceded they may slow down action on the legislation—want to retain a Republican-sponsored curb that would let the federal tariff commission fix certain "peril points" below which the president could not cut tariffs without explaining why to Congress.

While a crowd of 3,000 watched, sheriff's deputies were under a night-glaring floodlight dragged the swift St. Joseph river last night for a car containing the bodies of a woman and her daughter.

In the crowd was Eli Vintilla, 34. He collapsed as the bodies of his wife, Helen, 34, and 12-year-old daughter, Kay, were recovered.

An eerie touch was added to the scene when the bodies were thrown against the car's horn as grappling hooks seized the vehicle. The horn could be heard below the water, and it changed to a ghostly moan as the car was raised.

Vintilla collapsed on the bank when he saw the license plate. Deputy Coroner Robert L. Braunsdorf gave a verdict of accidental death.

House Scans Aid To China And Europe

Help May Be Too Late To Halt Communism

By JACK RUTLEDGE

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—Foreign aid for two sides of the world—China and Europe—came up for House study today.

Secretary of State Acheson was called to talk the Chinese situation over with 51 worried Republicans as the House foreign affairs committee wound up hearings on the $5,580,000,000 European aid bill.

Chairman Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.) said the committee probably will approve the European recovery plan next week. It hears three witnesses today.

But what the United States plans to do about the fate of struggling China is another matter. Some lawmakers fear it is too late to save China from Communism and that more aid would be a waste of money. Others disagree.

The government's position has not been made clear. The president told a news conference recently he had not made up his mind.

'Little Wagner Act' Given Blessing Of Governor Williams

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—A "Little Wagner Act," blessed by Governor Williams, has been prepared for introduction in the Senate today.

The law, defining various unfair labor practices and legally affirming labor's right to organize and bargain collectively, would affect only employees and employers engaged in intra-state commerce. Those in interstate commerce are governed by federal law.

The bill was sponsored by Senator Harold M. Ryan (R-Detroit). It would create a three-member State Labor Relations Board to be appointed by the governor, with Senate confirmation, for three-year terms. The salaries would be $7,500 a year.

The board would be forbidden to engage in mediation, conciliation or arbitration of labor disputes.

The bill would forbid employers to engage in such "unfair labor practices" as spying on employee organizational activities, maintaining or circulating a blacklist of union sympathizers, dominating or interfering with labor unions, compelling or rewarding employees to join a company union, refusing to bargain collectively or refusing to discuss grievances with employees and discharging or discriminating against union sympathizers.

The Ryan bill would permit the board to hold elections to determine the bargaining agent desired by a majority of an "appropriate unit" of employees, and to decide what that unit should be.

The bill specifies that the board need not order a bargaining unit election upon the demand of an employer, and the board would be forbidden to investigate complaints arising between members of one union or between affiliates of one parent labor organization. The board would be authorized to issue "cease and desist" orders to halt unfair labor practices and could impose such penalties as withdrawal of bargaining recognition from company unions, awarding back pay and reinstating discharged employees.

It would be allowed to appeal to circuit courts for orders to enforce its penalties against unfair labor practices.

The board would be given legal access to payrolls and employee lists of employers and would have subpoena powers.

Jobless Pay Of $42 Gets CIO Backing

Democrats Introduce Compensation Bill

By JAMES A. O. CROWE

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Legislation to increase maximum unemployment compensation to $42 a week for 26 weeks and make drastic revisions in the compensation law was ready for introduction by House Democrats today.

The measure is designed to carry out recommendations of Governor Williams for higher benefits and liberalized conditions for receiving benefits.

Sponsored by Rep. Louis Mezzano (D-Wakefield) and supported by all other Democrats in the lower chamber, the measure has the strong backing of the CIO.

The present provisions permit up to $28 a week for 20 weeks. The proposed law provides an unemployed person with no dependent children may draw a third of his regular pay up to $30 a week. A $3 weekly allowance is added for each dependent child up to four in the bill. The present law provides a $2 allowance.

Minimum benefit was $6, and it is proposed to be raised to $10. The bill proposes that coverage by unemployment insurance be substantially broadened to all working for anyone paying $150 a week in a year in wages. Only those working for an employer with eight or more workers are presently covered.

The present exemption of domestic, agriculture, charitable and religious, and public workers and miners working for their parents could be retained.

The present 22,000 employers paying into the unemployment compensation fund would be increased to 28 a week for 20 weeks.

Egypt Takes First Step To Permanent Peace In Palestine

Dynamic Jewish Nation
Gets Negev Desert

By L. S. CHAKALES

Rhodes, Feb. 24 (AP)—Egypt and Israel signed today an historic armistice, hailed by the United Nations mediator as an epochal event foreshadowing the early return of peace to the Middle East.

The mediator, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, said the agreement "virtually eliminates the possibility of a future armed conflict" between Egypt and Israel. He called it "a significant contribution to world peace."

Now, said Bunche, "the concentration will be on peaceful settlement of all outstanding questions, political, territorial and economic, between Israel and her Arab neighbors." The U. N. Palestine conciliation commission already has started to work for this.

Others Fall In Line
Egypt and Israel, by their agreement, blazed the path for the other Arab states. Iraq already has decided to approve whatever agreement was on "purely military questions" and did not deal with the political future of the Holy Land. But in Tel Aviv, Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok said the armistice would prove a "momentous event in the life of the Middle East." He added that Israel was confident Egypt never would regret her initiative in ending the shooting war.

Dr. Bunche, given the credit for the agreement by the Israeli delegation, said the armistice incorporated in its first article a declaration which is "very much akin to a non-aggression pact." It provides for a substantial withdrawal of troops and reduction of armed forces by both sides. He called the agreement a fair and honorable one.

While cameras ground out the story, the delegates signed their names 24 times to the five imitation-leather bound copies of the agreement. When finished, Bunche banged his gavel on the

LIST OF POLIO CASES GROWING

Escanaba, Wilson Girls Receive Treatment

Medical authorities of the children's clinic at St. Luke's hospital, Marquette, today released to the state health department the names of two additional cases of infantile paralysis from this area. They are:

Katherine MacLean, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. MacLean, of 402 South Sixth street, Escanaba, who was admitted for treatment at the children's clinic Feb. 20.

Jean Smith, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Smith of Wilson, admitted to the clinic Feb. 22, taken there in an Escanaba ambulance.

No report was made on the condition of the two most recent polio cases or whether there is any development of paralysis, an involvement that sometimes follows the disease.

There are four other cases of infantile paralysis at the treatment center in Marquette, all from the Powers-Spaulding area.

There are Robert Hoppe, 10, of Powers, admitted Feb. 16; Donald King of Nadeau, admitted Feb. 19; Betty Bellefeuille of Powers, admitted Dec. 20; and Robert Miller, 9, of Carney, admitted Feb. 9.

The illness of the MacLean girl brings to a total of three the number of polio cases in Delta county within the past year. All were from the city of Escanaba.

Menominee county has had seven cases, mostly from the Powers-Spaulding area. Two others have occurred in Dickinson county.

Saginaw Waitress Has No Honeymoon; Spouse Behind Bars

Saginaw, Mich., Feb. 24 (AP)—There was no honeymoon today for a little waitress and the man she married yesterday. Iron bars separated them.

The future was bleak. In a cell at the county jail, Patrick Murphy, a 39-year-old convicted burglar, waited for court action on a charge that might possibly mean life imprisonment for him.

Waiting too—at home—was Betty Winters Murphy, 26, of Bay City, Mich., the girl who insisted on the wedding. Bravely she had spoken her vows in the jail, embraced her husband, talked softly to him for a few moments and then watched as he was led away.

A kindly sheriff, William Munroe, had his own problem. He was still wondering whether he did right in arranging the wedding and serving as best man for the prisoner he captured and helped convict.

Lansing Ex-Mayor Is Taken By Death

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Laird J. Troyer, 67, mayor of Lansing between 1927 and 1931, died suddenly Wednesday at the Lansing city hall, victim of a heart attack.

Troyer was stricken in the office where he currently was serving as chief probation officer and friend of the court for Ingham county.

A native of Kokomo, Ind., and a graduate of Indiana State College, Troyer taught public school at Milo, Ind., for five years before he came to Lansing.

He also served for a period as county clerk of Oscoda county as

New Backing Asked For American Spies In Foreign Nations

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—American spies and their "contacts" abroad furnish about 20 percent of this nation's intelligence about military and political affairs in other countries.

One of the purposes of a mysterious bill approved by the House armed services committee, with recommendation for quick action by the House, is to encourage and compensate foreign citizens for their help to United States agents.

The American espionage system has been operating on a shoestring, with few funds and no precise law providing for spy work or payment to informers. The House bill, among other things, would cloak the central intelligence agency with definite authority for such operations.

To provide foreign "contacts" with assurance of refuge, it would allow the agency to bring into the United States each year up to 100 persons who had provided useful information.

Dry Circle Around Churches Proposed In Senate Measure

Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Four senators proposed today to draw a "dry" circle 1,000 feet wide around every church and school in Michigan.

Senators Don Vander Werp of Fremont, Bruce F. Clothier of North Branch, Bion L. Bates of Ovid and Edwin A. Klump of Harbor Beach, all Republicans, sponsored the bill.

It would forbid any liquor license within 500 feet of a church or school. The law now restricts liquor establishments to at least 500 feet from a church or school by the "normally traveled route."

Although the law now permits the state to relinquish any liquor establishment which already is within 500 feet of a church or school, the bill would forbid such license renewals.

Poetry Prize Won By Mental Patient Accused Of Treason

Washington, D. C., (AP)—"I have not betrayed anyone," says Ezra Pound, prize-winning poet who is now a mental patient here after being charged with treason.

The statement came in response to a request for Pound's comment on the weekend announcement that he had won the $1,000 first prize in a contest for the best book of poetry published in 1948.

The poet's only other comment was: "inaccurate statements in Press very tiring." His words were written in a bold hand on the margin of a sheet of paper listing questions about the award and his present literary work.

Pound was brought to the United States from Italy in November, 1945, to face charges that he made treasonable broadcasts in Italy during the war. He was adjudged of unsound mind and did not stand trial. He is confined to St. Elizabeth's hospital.

The $1,000 he won was "The Bollingen Prize," an award established a year ago. The jury of award is an honorary advisory group appointed by the Librarian of Congress.

"Sold the first day" said Jones a member of the Lansing board of health and as a Lansing city council member.

Pay Cuts Expected At General Motors

Drop In Cost Of Living Tied To Wage Contract

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—Some 225,000 General Motors workers will learn by tomorrow whether they are in for a pay cut.

Three workers, members of the CIO United Auto Workers, face the prospect of losing two or three cents an hour as a result of their two-year cost-of-living contract.

The agreement signed May 29, 1948, tied any pay boost or decrease for the next two years to the rise or fall in the government's consumer price index.

Every three months the union and company figure out any change in wage rates on the basis of this index. It is down now for the first time since the contract was written.

The GM employees benefitted up until now from rising prices and living costs. They got a three-cent hourly increase last September. But the index has been dropping for the past two months and tomorrow the Bureau of Labor Statistics will report its figure for January 15.

That is expected to be down enough from the October 15 index to cost the workers at least two cents an hour.

Next May 29, however, the GM employees are assured of a three-cent an hour "standard of living" increase. Even if they take a three-cent cut March 1, the May raise will leave them a penny an hour ahead of most other auto workers who got the flat 13-cent hourly pattern boost last year.

Another 30,000 CIO Electrical Workers at General Motors are covered by an identical arrangement.

They lose a penny for every 1.14 cents the index declines. It was 171.4 on December 15.

The figure represents prices of goods essential to moderate income families, as compared to the average prices of prewar 1935-39, which is considered an even 100.

PLASTICS REPLACE ZINC

Mt. Clemens (AP)—The Mt. Clemens Monitor-Leader has begun using a new photo-engraving process to speed reproduction of pictures in the newspaper. Plastic halftone "cuts" are used in the process instead of the ordinary zinc plates. The newspaper is the only one outside of the eastern industrial area using the process, known as the Fairchild photoengraver.

Chester, N. S., Feb. 24 (AP)—Residents here picked fish from trees yesterday for their dinner.

The fish were thrown into trees lining a nearby mill stream when a dam broke and loosed an eight-foot crest of water.

Schoolboy Punished For Yo-Yo In Class Kills Self At Home

Hialeah, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—A 12-year-old boy who was kept after school for playing with a yo-yo was found dead in his home, a .22 calibre rifle by his side.

Deputy Sheriff Claude C. High and Hialeah Police Chief Paul M. Hannan identified the youngster as Hunter Lyon Perner, and said he had been shot in the head.

Hannan said despondency over school work may have caused his death. "He was kept after school recently for playing with a yo-yo in class," he added.

The Hialeah police chief said the youth left a scrawled note reading simply: "I've decided to end it all."

The boy's mother, Mrs. Henry Perner, found the body yesterday when she returned home from work.

creased to some 100,000 by the broadened provision, backers said. The bill would revise the scale of employers' contributions so they would increase if the reserve went down and decrease if the reserve increased. They would also reflect fluctuations in the employers' payrolls.

Benefits For Strikers The revision, backers, would not necessarily mean increases in contributions, but would tend to level them off.

Disqualifications for compensation benefits would be liberalized so that anyone who is fired or quits his job would be eligible for benefits after four weeks. In such cases now, the worker is permanently disqualified.

In addition, the bill would permit workers laid off because of a strike in another factory to get full benefits. Strikers would still be ineligible for benefits.

Benefits to veterans immediately after their discharge from service would be provided and the unemployment compensation commission instead of the em-

First Skirmish Ends On New Labor Bill

Negro Rights New Issue In Senate Hearing

By MAX HALL

Washington, Feb. 24 (AP)—The question of rights for Negroes was thrust today into the steaming Senate battle over a new labor bill.

Senators of both parties were giving serious consideration to a suggestion that any new labor law enacted by Congress should require unions to treat white and negro workers alike. At present some unions bar negroes or give them a special type of membership.

The issue cropped up unexpectedly late yesterday as the Senate Labor committee finally ended three and a half weeks of hearings marked by lost tempers, howls of laughter, and torrential speeches.

Adjournment of the hearings ended the first big skirmish in the congressional battle over what to do about the Taft-Hartley act.

President Truman and his supporters in Congress are backing a bill to repeal it and substitute the original Wagner Act with some additions.

The next scene in the drama will be staged with the curtain down. Behind closed doors—starting either tomorrow or Monday—the committee will discuss the administration bill and vote on various proposals to change it, before sending it to the Senate floor for public debate.

That probably will take a week or two. The Senate debate, which is likely to be long remembered, probably will start before the end of March. Meantime the House will hold a debate of its own—timing and results not known.

ORE EARNINGS UP

New York, Feb. 24 (AP)—The Great Northern iron ore properties report net income of $1,630,990 for 1948, or $1.09 a share.

This compares with $1,489,759 for 1947, or 99 cents a share.

square conference table. "I thank you from the bottom of my heart," he said.

Still to be settled are the fate of the southern tip of the Negev desert from Beersheba southward to the Red Sea, the central area of Palestine held by the Arab Legion and Iraqis and the old part of Jerusalem.

These territorial questions will be determined largely by armistice negotiations with Trans-Jordan beginning here Monday.

The Egyptian agreement specifically states that territorial questions are subject to the final peace settlement. But there seems no doubt that this will be largely determined by the armistice line.

Significantly, Egypt concedes that insistence upon the Jews retiring to their Oct. 14 lines would not serve the "basic purposes and spirit" of the armistice. These were the lines whence Israel launched her two offensives in October and December and won the Negev. She never returned to the old lines, even though the U. N. Security Council twice ordered her to do so.

Only Three Days Left To Procure 1949 Auto Tags

February 23 is the last day you can use those 1948 automobile license plates, William Ranguette, in charge of the state auto license bureau in Escanaba, said this morning, in reminding Escanaba motorists that only three days remain to purchase plates before the deadline.

To facilitate purchase of new auto licenses by Johnny-come-latelys, Ranguette's office will be open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. tomorrow with no time out for lunch or dinner.

"This is for the benefit of persons who can't come to the office during regular business hours," Ranguette said. "We'll be open straight through from 9 in the morning until 9 at night tomorrow."

License sales here are running ahead of 1948, he pointed out. The entrance to the license bureau here is on the west side of the First National Bank building, on Seventh street just off Ludington.

Wall Blanket Of Hot Air Is Said To Improve Heat

Chicago.—A blanket of warm air from the furnace spread over the walls of a room is the feature of a new home-heating system to be demonstrated here next week at the exposition of the National Association of Home Builders. It is a General Electric development and said to be efficient and economical.

Special registers and grilles are used in this so-called Air-Wall system that direct the forced warm air upward in a fan-like pattern in front of the wall. A hidden feature is use of standard four-inch stove pipe, instead of the more expensive rectangular ducts usually installed to bring the hot air to the registers. This lessens the cost of ducts and installation as much as 50 per cent.

Labor Department To Hold Hearings

The full board of the Michigan Department of Labor and Industry will hold redemption hearings at the Escanaba court house March 1 involving cash settlements with injured claimants who are signing off all further claims for disability under the Workmen's Compensation Act.

A meeting between members of the industrial commission and timber producers has been arranged at the House of Ludington at 6:30 p. m.

It is claimed. Approximately 30 per cent less air is circulated in the new system as compared with customary warm air systems. The air is supplied at somewhat higher temperatures for mixing with room air as it leaves the registers. Good circulation of air within the room is provided, and there is less tendency for the warm air to cling to the ceiling.

Chest X-Ray Unit Schedule Revised

The health department has announced a revised schedule for the mobile x-ray unit, now in Escanaba completing a tour of Delta county offering free chest examinations for the discovery of tuberculosis.

Today the x-ray unit is at the Birds Eye Veneer company plant, and tomorrow it will be at the Paper Mill at Groos between the following hours: 9:30 a. m. to 12 noon; 1:30 to 4 p. m., and 6:30 to 8 p. m.

Monday, Feb. 28, the unit will be at St. Joseph's high school, and on Tuesday, March 1, in the morning at the Harnischfeger Corporation's new plant and in the afternoon at the plant on Stephenson avenue.

March 2 and 3 the unit will be at the Junior high school in Escanaba, and on March 4 at the Delta Hardware.

For the remainder of the schedule—March 7, 8, 9, 10 and 11—the unit will be located at Ludington and 11th streets to provide examinations for the general public.

Outdoor Rinks In City Will Close, Except Royce Park

Outdoor ice rinks in Escanaba are being closed for the season because of thawing weather, except for the large 19th street (Royce Park) rink, George Grenholm, city recreation director, has announced.

Grenholm said that other outdoor rinks have been ruined by the thaw and that cost of rebuilding them would not be justified. The Royce Park rink still has a good base, however, and it will be maintained if it is possible to do so.

Ice conditions are still satisfactory at the indoor rink in the fairgrounds exhibition building.

One tribe of American Indians, the Pimas, believed that upon death, the human spirit passed into the body of an owl. To assist in the transfer, the Indians gave owl feathers to the dying person.

Owls are found throughout the world, from the Arctic regions to tropic lands, and more than 300 kinds are known.

Sweep-Back Wing Is Being Tested

Washington.—The new Delta-wing airplane, now under test at the U. S. Air Force base at Muroc, Calif., is another experimental craft to determine the real value of the so-called sweep-back wing which the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics has been subjecting to wind-tunnel tests for the past few years.

As the term sweep-back is used in aviation it refers to wings whose forward edges extend backward at an angle with the body of the plane instead of at right angles as in conventional aircraft. Wind-tunnel tests indicate that the sweep-back wing presents less drag than the usual wing and is therefore perhaps desirable in planes designed for excessively high speeds.

This claim is already backed in two notable planes which recently made transcontinental passages in record breaking time. These are the Boeing Stratojet, U.S.A.F. B-47, which crossed the continent in less than four hours, and the Northrop Flying Wing, U.S.-A.F. YB-49, which took a little over four hours for a transcontinental trip. Another speedy plane with sweep-back wings is the North American F-86, which holds the world's official speed record.

Romans considered the owl as a bird of evil omen and a messenger of bad news.

Ancient Romans believed owls foretold the coming of death when they alighted on rooftops.

From five to 23 jewels—it is always an odd number—are used as bearings in spring watches.

Schools To Run Student Bus Trips

THE board of education's decision to take control of out of town bus trips of high school groups to athletic events and similar affairs is a step in the right direction.

In taking this step, the school board is assuming a responsibility that it has shunned in the past. The results have not been satisfactory. Charter trips organized by students have lacked the discipline that the situation requires.

The new regulations announced by the board of education should be accepted with satisfaction, particularly by parents. No students will be encouraged to make out of town trips to athletic events, but if the students desire to make such trips and their parents approve, the high school will arrange for adequate safeguards to protect the welfare of the children. These safeguards include chaperones possessing authority to enforce proper conduct regulations.

It may be charged that this is more regimentation of the lives of high school students, which admittedly it is. But the students themselves have made this additional regimentation necessary by their inability to properly enforce discipline on charter trips in the past. Thoughtful parents will acknowledge that this new arrangement is a decided improvement over the system that was in effect previously. Most students will recognize this, too.

Facilities Needed In Porcupine Area

THE state conservation commission is supporting a plan to construct facilities for accommodation of guests at Porcupine Mountain and perhaps also at Tahquamenon Falls. The facilities would be financed by the state and leased to concessionaires under terms which would ultimately return the capital outlay to the state.

In effect, this is the same plan that has operated successfully in the national parks. The conservation commission has emphasized that it would not construct facilities at any area where private capital is ready and willing to do the job.

The state has already invested a large sum of money in the development of the state park in the Porcupine Mountains. The need for facilities to accommodate guests is readily apparent. If private capital hesitates to do the job that must be done, it is essential that the state fills the need, particularly since it will hasten usage of the park and ultimately return the investment to the state.

Reds Step Up Fight On Religion

THE Communist leader in Italy, Palmiro Togliatti, who up to now has advocated a Communist policy of avoiding a direct conflict with the Catholic church in Italy, has launched a new party line. Togliatti has vigorously assailed Pope Pius XII for what Togliatti called "implicit endorsement of the projected Atlantic alliance." The Italian Communist further alleged that the papal office is seeking to organize a "holy alliance" against Communist countries.

That the Catholic church is waging a relentless fight against Communism is no secret. The pope has frequently spoken out against the evils of Communism. Princes of the church and Catholic laity likewise have organized militant opposition to the godless thesis of Communism. Togliatti's denunciation of the pope developed from the pontiff's approval of the union of states in the so-called Atlantic alliance for mutual defense against Communist encroachment, particularly against aggression from Communist-controlled countries.

The arrest and trial of Cardinal Mindszenty, treason charges against Protestant ministers and the bitter attack on the pope by the Italian Communist leader indicate that the Communists are stepping up their campaign against religious groups which constitute a severe obstacle to Communist expansion.

Labor Impatient On T-H Repeal

AFTER the presidential election, labor leaders were confident that repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law would be one of the first acts of the new Congress and that the old Wagner act, with all its prejudices weighted on the side of unionism, would be reinstated as a substitute for the T-H act.

The Taft-Hartley act, as it has existed in the past year and a half, undoubtedly will be revised in the present session of Congress. But it is becoming more apparent that the ultimate change will not go all the way back to the old Wagner act. Many of the features of the Taft-Hartley bill, including a number to which labor bosses are vigorously opposed, will be retained.

The administration-sponsored labor bill is meeting stiff opposition from within its own Democratic ranks. Congressmen recognize that the bill as it is now drafted does not adequately protect the public from such unreasonable acts as secondary boycotts and jurisdictional strikes nor from nationwide strikes that cripple our economic life, such as the soft coal strikes and transportation strikes of the past.

The union bosses are getting impatient about the congressional hesitancy to bounce out the T-H act, but it is an impatience that stems from a realization that labor leaders are not going to get all the changes that they anticipated after the election.

The Democrats have a large enough majority in both branches of Congress that if they were united behind the administration they could have adopted the proposed changes in labor legislation long ago. The fact that they have not done so indicates that a number of Democrats recognize the need for retaining substantial parts of the present law.

DEATH IN THE SMOG SCREEN (Milwaukee Sentinel)

From England, the country that has been plagued the longest by the noxious combination of industrial smoke and fog, come accounts of an observation which puts a new and ominous light on the pestilential smog that now afflicts some American cities.

English observers have determined that in conditions of heavy smog, as at London, the death rate from respiratory and heart ailments rises sharply, sometimes doubling itself.

This bears out the theory given for the tragedy at Donora, Pa., where 19 people were killed when a low-lying, dense smog aggravated to a fatal degree certain asthmatic and heart conditions.

And it strongly points to the possibility that thousands of death every year in American industrial centers have smog as a contributory if not immediate cause.

There are many cities in the United States where the miasma of smog has been actively curbed and controlled.

St. Louis, where possibly the best job has been done, got rid of its smog at the cost of five cents per year per person, as contrasted with the twenty dollars per person suffered annually from the damage and filth of smog.

Hudson County in New Jersey, once notorious for its smog pollution, eliminated nine-tenths of the reek without closing or moving away a single industrial plant. This was done at an annual cost of $40 thousand.

"Nobody," says the Woman's Home Companion reporting both these instances, "can place a dollar and cents value on what Hudson County has gained in health, a longer life span, fewer man-days lost through illness, more cheerful citizens, cleaner homes and increased real estate values."

Pittsburgh, long handicapped by a reputation of smoke and air pollution from industrial fumes, has made excellent progress in its anti-smog campaign. Through intense pioneering efforts, that city has largely overcome the difficulty, extended its effort to outlying areas and furnished valuable research for similar programs elsewhere.

That smog is a destroyer of property, of health and happiness and community values, no longer needs to be proved.

That smog is also an immediate threat to life is now established by the tragedy of Donora and the subsequent findings of Dr. Clarence A. Mills, national leader in experimental medicine, in his report to the University of Cincinnati.

What other enlightened communities have done, the others can do.

It is known from the experience of those American cities which have freed themselves of air pollution that if the proper technical and executive direction is set up, a prompt solution follows.

It is also known that nothing is accomplished by muddled thinking and political inertia, no matter how much money is allotted to the purpose.

Public welfare demands that a strong law, scientific skill and able management be co-ordinated for the effective eradication of smog, whenever and wherever it rises in our country.

This is the pressing and essential task of every community that values its health and progress.

WHAT WE NEED (ARE? IS?)

Q. What we please reference a classroom controversy? It's about such constructions as "What we need (are? is?) higher salaries for teachers." We find no help in our textbooks.—Mrs. M. E.

A. Let us look at it this way: The relative pronoun "what" is followed by a singular verb for the reason that "what" is simply another way of saying "that which," or "the thing which."

Let us regard "what we need" as a noun clause. It actually is the subject of the sentence, and expresses the idea of "our need," which obviously is singular, as if we were to say, "our need is for higher salaries for teachers."

These sentences are correct: What Europe needs is food and clothing. What we expect is cooperation and friendship. What we hope for is many years of peace. What we bought was groceries.

Now note that in some constructions "all" has a meaning that also is equivalent to "what" or "that which," as: All that we need is higher salaries for teachers. All that we saw was pine trees. All that we hope for is peace and justice.

The pronoun "it" also is singular. Note: It is the Germans whom we defeated. It was the Romans who built the aqueduct. Is they who sent us the books.

Q. In phoning, should one ask to speak

Washington.—Flashing across the Washington sky these days are all sorts of mysterious shapes. Flying wings, super-duper jet jobs, round-the-world bombers streak across the capital and the gaping congressman has a feeling of being whirled along in the revolution of the air age.

It doesn't matter, of course, if there is only one of these spectacular jobs straight off the designing board of a poetic designer. Wrapped up in a press release or a speech telling how much faster than the speed of light it can travel, one makes as big a jolt as a hundred.

In the rivalry between the three services for funds and favor from Congress, the ability of the Air Force to startle and surprise is the subject of bitter recrimination from both the Navy and the Army. That rivalry rarely has been more acute than it is today, 19 months after the services had theoretically been unified by law.

"IKE" NAMED MEDIATOR

This is the real significance behind the drafting of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to serve as a kind of umpire over the disputes and differences that separate the three branches of our national defense. The hope is that General Eisenhower will establish the pattern of an impartial chairman of the joint chiefs of staff.

Only on the urgent plea of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal did General Eisenhower finally consent to come to Washington on this assignment. He had begun to establish himself as the practical, working head of Columbia university and gradually he was freeing himself of the constant demand for public speeches and appearances.

But the urgency of the task outweighed any personal desires. The hope is that General Eisenhower can make the difficult and often unpleasant decisions that have long been postponed.

Because vital decisions have been postponed, increasing uncertainty and uneasiness have grown up within the services. The effect of delay and of ever more acute competition for congressional and public favor has been hardest on the Department of the Army.

A foot soldier slogs through the mud; he doesn't flash across the sky in a guided missile aimed at the moon. That conscientious soldier, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chief of staff of the Army, had come to feel himself pretty much boxed in by the spectacular competition. According to his friends, he had begun seriously to wonder whether he could continue to serve effectively as chief of staff.

GENERAL BRADLEY WORRIED

In a speech delivered in Boston on Feb. 4 General Bradley spoke his mind with exceptional frankness. He has been previously reported in this column, what he said then was what he often has said with the utmost earnestness in joint chiefs of staff sessions:

"Because too many Americans are searching for an easy and popular way to armed security through top-heavy trust in air power at the sacrifice of our remaining arms—we are in danger of reckoning our safety on fantasy rather than fact. (Good gosh, did you see that flying wing? It nearly clipped the dome off the capitol!)"

"I do not deprecate the vast capabilities of air power as a priority weapon for attack against any aggressor state. Nor do I deny that the threat of instant retaliation through an air offensive is our greatest deterrent to war today."

"But I must part company with those enthusiasts who ascribe to air power limitless capabilities in winning an instant decision. Air power, like every other weapon, has gaping limitations for war as we shall know it for many years to come. However crippling air attack can be, I am convinced beyond any reasonable doubt that should this nation be forced into still another conflict, we shall once more be forced to gain the inevitable victory over our dead bodies—those of our soldiers on the ground."

To show off their newest surprises the Air Force recently put on a big show at Andrews Field near here. President Truman and influential members of the Senate and House were honored guests.

Sen. Millard Tydings, chairman of the Senate armed services committee, gave a remarkable demonstration of the dizzying influence of such potent propaganda. Getting his planes mixed up, Senator Tydings, in an interview made claims for the B-36 bomber which apply to a new bomber scarcely off the drawing board.

Continuing research and development in the air are essential to national security. But it is also essential to realize that promise is not performance and to confuse fantasy and fact is extremely dangerous. To equip every congressman with a jet-propelled broomstick and a jet-propelled imagination is hardly the way to get balanced armaments.

"to" or "with" a person?—W. T.

A. One speaks to an audience. One speaks (converses) with a friend.

Q. Our class would appreciate a discussion of "I can't seem." Will you be good enough to Colbyize it for us?—H. C.

A. "I can't seem" has been the target of grammarians for many a long day. They tell us we should not say, "I can't seem to understand it." We should say, "It seems that I cannot understand it."

Nevertheless, "I seem" and "I can't seem" are idioms so firmly established that it is pointless to try to stamp them out. Indeed, the usage has the complete sanction of Webster's New International under "seem," page 2,266, definition 7: "I can't seem to unlock the door."

Q. Why is "won't" the contraction of "will not"?—V. R.

A. "Won't" is actually the contraction of "will not," an obsolete form of "will not."

BIG PINE—John W. Fager of Powers reports that earlier this month a large pine tree was cut in the River Road area north of Powers-Spalding. The pine, largest of 35 cut in the area, was five feet seven inches in diameter at the stump and was 107 feet long. Eight men stood on the stump while having their pictures taken.

"These trees, now considered large pine, were left standing in the ax and saw days of the old Spalding Lumber company," Fager reported. "At that time they were about two feet in diameter. I believe the pine cutting in this area by the Spalding Lumber company was back in the 1890's. A tree of this size, we estimated, must be about 150 years old."

The butt log of the big pine was purchased by the city of Norway and is being displayed at that city's information lodge near US-41. Among those present at the time the tree was felled by a chain saw operated by Walter Sheske and Art Poquette were John Cory, Ray Peterson, George Grau, John, Raymond, Walter and Louis Fager of Spalding, and Andrew Vescolani of Hermansville. Two of the five logs in the tree went to the Birds Eye Veneer mill in Escanaba and another will be placed on display at Powers.

INCLUDING THE U. P.—The U. S. Army Recruiting Service believes in being explicit. In a recent news release on army recruiting the service reported it "covers the entire State of Michigan, including the Upper Peninsula."

What would they say in Detroit if the Recruiting Service reported it covered the "entire State of Michigan, including the Lower Peninsula." Oh, well. We're becoming more accustomed to such things.

TOO MANY BEARDS—Some people believe a full beard makes a man look impressive. Atty. James Frost of Escanaba declares that too many beards in one community brings only confusion.

An Escanaba Rotarian, Atty. Frost related how on a recent visit to Marquette he decided that he would attend Rotary club meeting there to keep up his attendance record. He was advised by the clerk at his hotel that Rotary was meeting in the dining room and he went in and sat down. All of the gentlemen at the table wore beards of one denomination or another and it was explained to him that the hirsute adornment was being worn in the observance of Marquette's centennial celebration. Behind those "wild and uncontrolled hirsute decorations" lurked Lions instead of Rotarians, Atty. Frost discovered, and he retired in confusion.

At another hotel he was assured that Rotarians were really meeting there behind their facial shrubbery, although he could recognize none of the individuals at first. Later one of his colleagues came over to introduce himself and Atty. Frost was assured that at last he was among Rotarians. His experience brought the following warning:

"If Escanaba ever has an occasion to sponsor such a celebration, I hope that it will not include the wearing of beards. For there is always the danger that one will be unable to distinguish a Rotarian from a Lion."

DISTINGUISHED—Among the Escanabans, now in Marquette, centennial, is Joe Shipman, former Escanaba school teacher. Now with the Michigan Vocational Rehabilitation commission, Joe is stationed at Marquette although he travels throughout the Upper Peninsula. His beard, it must be noted, is a Van Dyke that Joe wears like a man of distinction. It must also be reported that Joe has worn a mustache for several years and so had a head start in the development of his centennial decorations.

OF MINNEWASCA—George T. Springer, former Gladstone resident now residing in Minneapolis, writes: "Have noted the growing historical interest in Delta county. It is regrettable that some one did not obtain from the late C. A. Clark of Gladstone his information on Gladstone's early history before he died."

"The present Gladstone was in Minnawasca township (Sioux word meaning "white water") and was originally platted as Minnawasca. Before it was recorded, however, a telegram came to the townsie owners from Senator Washburn, the projector of the Soo Line, requesting that it be named Gladstone in honor of premier of England, William E. Gladstone. Washburn had to get financial assistance from England to complete the Soo Line as he was unable to get it in the U. S.

"Kipling on Gladstone's north boundary, and Rudyard in Chipewa county are examples of salute to the British. I have a poem, not to be found in Kipling's works, 'My Two Sons in Michigan.'"

"I have always thought it unfortunate that Gladstone did not remain Minnawasca in a land abounding in Indian lore and Indian place names. I am glad there remains in Gladstone the Minnawasca Block, Minnawasca Sportsmen's Club and the High school annual 'Minnawasca.'"

Springer was born in Gladstone in 1889, the son of a Soo Line engineer. One of the prime movers behind the Gladstone Roleo, Springer returns each summer for that national event.

Miami (AP)—It was the big moment in the criminal life of "Muscle Eyes," the hotel mouse who could fix horse races with his hypnotic eyes.

The cream of the American underworld was there to hear the head of the National Gambling Syndicate lay down plans for the "big killing."

But the tiny mouse, natty in his camel hair polo coat, was the key man. For little "Muscle Eyes" had earned $5,000,000 for the Syndicate by putting the whammy on race horses with his high-octane eyeballs.

"And we need your whammy for the big killing," said the big boss coldly. "Here's the pitch: There's a horse called Jakehoof that's the odds-on favorite to win the widener handicap at Hialeah."

"The mob's raised $10,000,000 to bet against him. If you put the whammy on Jakehoof, we collect $25,000,000. If you don't well—"

"Take it easy, greasy," said the mouse. "I know my business."

The night before the race the mob threw a party. "Muscle Eyes" and his Mouse Moll, Madeline, were guests of honor, everybody drank champagne until "Muscle Eyes" passed out on a sofa pillow.

When the mob left, loyal Madeline, who wanted her mouse to go straight, began undressing him. She discovered a tiny pouch around his neck.

"What's this?" she asked, shaking him. "Thass my magic medicine pouch," he mumbled. "Keep my thyroid capsules and benzedrine tablets in't. They put the old whammy in my eyeballs."

Then he passed out again. Madeline thought and thought. Then she opened the pouch. She emptied the capsules and filled them with sugar. She threw the pep pills and put in aspirin tablets.

The next afternoon, still somewhat groggy, "Muscle Eyes" was smuggled out to the track in a binoculars case carried by the big boss. The boss took up a position at the rail a hundred feet from the finish line.

"They're off!"

That cry burst from thousands of throats as the big race began. "Muscle Eyes" crawled out. He opened his neck pouch and gulped down two pills and two capsules. As the horses turned into the home stretch Jakehoof was leading by three lengths.

"Give him the whammy!"

screamed the boss.

The mouse bulged out his eyeballs. But instead of dropping back, Jakehoof picked up speed. The mouse pawed down some more capsules and pills. He strained his weary eyeballs from their sockets. It was no good. Jakehoof galloped on to win by seven lengths—as the gambling Syndicate boss fainted.

That night the mob gathered again in "Muscle Eyes" room. The mouse was being pressed with liquor from all sides, and there was a mucky finn in every drink.

"We know you didn't mean for us to drop that $25,000,000," said the big boss smoothly.

"Naw, I wouldn't double cross you," said "Muscle Eyes," blearily. "It was an accident."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—All the diplomats in Dublin can't persuade pugnacious, little Ireland to join the North Atlantic pact—if it means signing up as an ally of Great Britain.

This has been made clear in simple, blistering Irish.

Writing to members of the Senate foreign relations committee, Irish Minister Sean Nunan explained bluntly that his government couldn't enter "any military alliance involving joint military action with the state which was responsible for the partition of Ireland (and) which continues to occupy a portion of the country with its armed force."

In red-pepper language, Nunan continued: "No Irish government could possibly expect to find the necessary support for a policy involving military alliance with a power that continues to lend sanction, tacit or active, to evils of the very kind which it is the objective of the proposed North Atlantic pact to oppose and prevent."

CAPITAL NEWS CAPSULES

Division In Moscow—Uncensored diplomatic dispatches now report at least two distinct cleavages inside the Soviet Politburo. The 14 Soviet leaders are split over "war or peace." A number of the younger men around Stalin and Molotov think war will come this summer because the United States is headed for a depression. But another faction is eager for U. S. appeasement because American public opinion has become so strongly anti-Russian.

Soviet Nonsense—The Russian news agency, Tass, has been asking frequent questions around the Army and Navy departments. The latest so-called news story, which Tass has been snooping after, is the Air Force's specifications for high octane gasoline. Believe it or not, but Uncle Sam's big-hearted policy is to give the Russians whatever information they want—as long as it isn't officially classified as secret.

Poor Trigue Lie—The state department is considering asking for the recall of Trigue Lie as secretary - general of the United Nations—because Lie criticized the North Atlantic pact as undermining the United Nations. The state department claims the pact will strengthen, not hurt the United Nations, and it's sore as blazes at Trigue Lie, whose criticism, it claims, follows Moscow's propaganda line.

Michiganander Helps Michiganander—Senator Vandenberg has taken a sudden interest in the Senate's investigation of the alleged vote frauds which put his junior colleague, Senator Ferguson, back into office. Vandenberg has written three letters, one to Rules Chairman Carl Hayden of Arizona and two to Elections Chairman Francis Meyer of Pennsylvania, asking that the impounded Michigan ballot boxes be released so as to be used in local primary elections held earlier this week. It turned out, however, that only 15 counties were holding elections so Senate investigators speeded up their examination of ballots in those counties. Vandenberg also wrote another letter, requesting a complete report of the elections subcommittee's findings on Ferguson.

Bolstering China—The inside reason why ex-Mayor Roger Lapham of San Francisco suddenly rushed to Washington from China is that Lapham, now Marshall plan administrator for China, believes he can make the Nationalist government hold out. Lapham wants to set up the Chinese Nationalists on Formosa, which the Communists could not invade and which would be supplied with Marshall plan aid. Formosa might later become a permanent American base. General MacArthur is 100 per cent for Lapham's plan.

"Lady Of Letters"
Rated Excellent
In Show Business

The Escanaba Civic Theatre, in its forthcoming production of "Lady of Letters" by Turner Bullock, will again entertain a large number of followers interested in home talent productions.

"This play is very amusing and promises many, many laughs for all who attend," Whitney Dixon, director, said today.

"Without entering any special plea for rattle-brained people, we must admit that there is a certain charm about them that seems to justify their existence. Adelaide Willifer rarely does anything that is touched by common sense, but on the other hand she never does anything that is not amusing. Her adventure into literature marks the peak of her career, and forms the main incident of "Lady of Letters," the director explains.

"Audiences have consistently roared with laughter as Adelaide Willifer enjoys the glory which is not hers... at least which has not come through any effort on her part. Her newly acquired fame rests lightly on her feathery head, but becomes a source of great embarrassment to the rest of the family when the truth becomes known."

This hilarious comedy, directed by Whitney Dixon, will be produced in William W. Oliver auditorium on March 4 and 5 by Escanaba Civic Theatre.

The temperature of the surface of the sun is calculated to be about 6,000 degrees centigrade.

AIR POLLUTION IS DANGEROUS

Case Of Running Nylons Emphasizes Perils

Washington, (SS)—"If people won't fight air pollution to save lives, maybe they will to save stockings." This is the reaction of one chemist to the Case of the Running Nylons, reported from Jacksonville, Fla.

Sulfur compounds clinging to particles in the air are the best bet for "who done it" in the case of the nylons. But scientists point out that lives as well as stockings can be saved by cleaning up the air over American cities. A more tragic case of air pollution was the loss of 20 lives in Donora, Pa., last fall from a death-dealing smog. Scientists are still studying the air over Donora to get full facts on the chemistry of the disaster there.

More facts are known about the nylons, because that same thing has happened elsewhere. When it struck here in 1940, scientists at the National Bureau of Standards solved the case. Sulfur dioxide on particles in the air from chimneys in a small area were forming sulfuric acid. The particles were found on the running hosiery—both nylons and silk. The acid weakened a thread, causing a run—or in some cases many threads on the same stocking.

The nylon or silk does not vanish into thin air or form a gas which makes them disappear. They simply get run, disappear. Sulfur compounds in the air are an old enemy of clothes. Several years ago in New England, all types of cotton goods, but particularly men's shirts, were found to be breaking up under certain apparently normal conditions. Investigation revealed that sulfuric acid was being formed from sulfur on particles in the air.

Scientific tests here indicate that the runs will strike old or new stockings of either nylon or silk. The sheerest hose pulled tightly over the leg will, of course, be most likely to have the threads wear through.

But the best way to prevent run epidemic is simply to keep the air clean. In addition to saving stockings, it can save health and lives.

Developed during the war and now licensed for manufacture is a pencil-sized detector for the poisonous gas, carbon monoxide.

RUARK PERUSES CATALOG AGAIN

Says Russian Peasants Would Enjoy It

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York—Mr. Bruce Barton's suggestion that we might improve our Russian propaganda by dropping a few thousand Sears Roebuck catalogs on Russia, to spell out and picture the available wealth of our peasants, has spurred a perusal of a book I hadn't read in 20 years.

The old Sears catalog used to be awaited with the tense eagerness of a child, for Christmas, since, indeed, Santa did a great deal of his shopping with the firm. My boyish eyes focussed most avidly on the sports segment—the bicycles, the catcher's mitts, the saddles and guns and hunting knives and mackinaws and high laced boots.

In the current spring and summer copy of the catalog, those sections seem to have shrunk. There aren't nearly as many lethal weapons as formerly; not so many mitts and gloves and baseball shoes. I notice that Bob Feller is the big signer on the baseball gloves, with a remarkably unfamous catcher named Jake Early endorsing the mitts. In my day names like Stuffy McInnes and Rabbit Maranville were stenciled across the heel of the equipment.

The new Sears portfolio of goodies lists 1178 pages, not counting the order blanks, and offers a rough 12,000 items for sale. The table of contents starts with "vitamins" and ends with "zonite." You can still choose anything from peruna to petunias.

Male Models Perfect
The male models for the suits and coats are still the fine, ruddy youths of yore—men who obviously eschew the coffin-nail and confine their profanity to "damn." Their clothes fit perfectly—no bulge, no creases, no bags in the knees. The lady models are always fresh and innocent fillies or apple-cheeked matrons, with never a martini glass in hand to sully their appeal in the Bible belt.

The old time corset-and-maternity-harness section has been replaced by pages devoted to the pantie-girdle and other air bulge batters, but the ladies pursue a prim circumspection even in those racy chapters. There is none of that gay abandon so characteristic of the fashionable ladies' magazine—just a Sears model, a girdle is just something to squeeze down her bumps, not send her off on a giddy romantic spree. I was a bit shocked to find three kinds of falsies and two brands of bras to cup the counterfeits, since falsies on a farm seem a touch extraneous. But you can buy a type called "bud-ees" for 49 cents.

Has Own Book Club
Sears now has its own book club, a sterilized literary department endorsed by a minister, who says they "are books without an ax to grind either for or against any 'isms' or un-American group. They are good clean fiction books which provide a few hours of relaxation."

However, on the next page, I note that a reader may purchase "The Virginian," as easily as "The Grapes of Wrath." The complete, harsh works of James Cain and Erskine Caldwell ride right along with "Girl Of The Limberlost" by Gene Stratton-Porter. James Farrell's "World I Never Made," and "Strange Fruit" are in there, too. These gusty morsels are obviously for non-conformers to the precepts of the 4-H club.

Sears demands a stout 10 per cent interest, plus breakage, on its time-payment items, and requires 10 per cent cash down on everything but rugs, furniture, deep freezers, stoves, ironers, mattresses, phonographs, radios, refrigerators, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, washers, air compressors, trailers, boats, outdoor motors, paint sprayers, rebuilt auto engines, rifles, shotguns, saddles, sawmills, power saws, and truck tires. You have to plunk down 20 per cent on these.

Sears seems stuck with what the ladies called the new look, since the firm's dresses are chopped off at the calf. This could be catastrophe if Paris' decree of shorter dresses takes hold this spring, but Sears has weathered these crises before with little loss of prestige.

Altogether, I believe Mr. Bar-

Large Pine Tree
Cut Near Powers

Powers, Mich.—A pine tree, towering to a height of 107 feet, was felled Wednesday when workers at the John W. Fazer logging camp got the "go" signal from their boss.

Estimated scale of lumber was said to be close to 3,360 feet. Fazer, contract logger for the Oliver Iron Mining company, reports it to be the biggest tree seen in many years as a jobber.

Located, about 15 miles north on the "river road" on the west side of the Big Cedar river in sec. 33, 40, 26.

John Steinke, superintendent of the Oliver Iron Mining company, timber department of Duluth and Orla Soland, Norway, Mich., supervisor of the district timber operations here, witnessed the felling of the giant tree.

LUDINGTON DIES
IN MILWAUKEE

Family Was Associated With I. Stephenson

Milwaukee — (AP) — Harrison Ludington III, descendant of a Wisconsin governor, died Tuesday of a heart attack at his home. He was 52. Ludington was active in aviation for 30 years, began his flying career in 1918 and continued active with the civil air patrol in World War II. His great grandfather, Harrison Ludington, served as mayor of Milwaukee in 1871 and 1872 and as governor of Wisconsin in 1876-1877.

Menominee, Mich. — The first Harrison Ludington, former governor of Wisconsin and former mayor of Milwaukee, was interested in the N. Ludington company of Marinette, which operated a sawmill near where the interstate bridge stands today. He was also the first president of the Menominee River Manufacturing company which, in 1888, became the Menominee River Boom company. He never lived in Marinette.

Only Ludington to live in Marinette was Nelson Ludington, a nephew of Harrison Ludington I, who worked for a time in the company store operated by the sawmill. His widow is a daughter of the late Isaac Stephenson of Marinette. She now resides in Chicago.

Ludington street in Escanaba is named for the Ludington family.

Railway Romance
Leaves Parents At Flint Bewildered

Flint, Michigan, (AP)—Two bewildered parents are getting acquainted with the marine corporal their 19-year-old daughter met and married during a train trip home from the West coast.

Everything happened so fast Mr. and Mrs. John C. Taunt are still trying to sort it all out.

When 23-year-old Floyd H. Simons arrived Sunday with his bride, Mary Ella, he announced he was going to quit the marines and become a commercial artist. But first, he said, he is going to take Mary Ella to visit his mother in Milwaukee.

The Taunts have seen four of their seven other children married, but there's never been anything like this before.

They first heard of it in a telegram from their daughter. She had boarded a train last Monday in San Francisco. Simons was across the aisle. For two days they made eyes at each other, they said.

Then, the corporal crossed the aisle. That clinched things, for the young couple got off the train and were married Friday at Council Bluffs, Iowa.

The parents said they are still "bewildered" by it all.

Florence Nightingale

ON WDBC TOMORROW—The Delta county American Red Cross drive toward a goal of $10,000 will begin Tuesday, March 1, under the chairmanship of Harry J. Gruber, of Escanaba, with R. W. Had-dock heading the campaign in Escanaba, Lewis N. Empson in Glad-stone and John Wolkenhauer, of Escanaba, in the county rural areas. Timed to coincide with the start of this campaign is the broadcast of the story of Florence Nightingale, "The Lady With A Lamp," over WDBC, Escanaba radio station, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Miss Madeleine Carroll, popular motion picture actress who worked with children of stricken areas during World War II, will play the role of Miss Nightingale, who established the tradition of nursing service. This is the twenty-second in the series of "Great Scenes from Great Plays," sponsored by families of the Episcopal church.

Community Chest
Meeting Tonight

Officers and directors of the Delta county Community Chest, and contributors to the Chest fund, will meet in the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce office at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Officers will be elected for the ensuing year and funds will be allocated to the participating organizations.

ON RAILROADS

1948 Fatalities Fewer Than In 50 Years

Fewer persons suffered fatal injuries in railroad accidents in 1948 than in any of the past 50 years for which records are available, the Michigan Railroads Association reports.

Based on preliminary figures, the association states that the number of persons fatally injured in railroad accidents in 1948 was 9.4 percent less than in the next best year, 1947, and the number of non-fatal injuries last year declined 11.7 percent below 1947.

Forty-two persons lost their lives while riding on trains last year compared with 65 in 1947, an average of one fatality for each 960 million passenger-miles of service performed. This is a substantially better average, the association states, than in any of the preceding 10 years and which compares favorably with the average attained during the depression period in the 1930's when passenger traffic was less than half what it was in 1948. The non-fatal injury rate to passengers on trains in 1948 was 8.56 per 100 million passenger-miles, an improvement over 1947, but not so good as in the years 1942-1946, inclusive.

Artist Exhibits
Slides At Open
Club Meeting

Photography from an artist's point of view revealing beautiful composition and lighting effects which formed interesting patterns was shown by Clarice McKeever, of Mackinac Island and Escanaba last evening at the open meeting of the Escanaba Woman's club held at the Franklin school with a capacity attendance.

Miss McKeever's exhibit was entitled "Mackinac Seasons," and included slides which received wide recognition in international slide exhibits in Chicago and St. Louis. An interesting descriptive talk by the artist accompanied the slides.

The slides, shown in continuity, telling the story of the Island, included approaches to Mackinac, giving the geographical setting and showing its height, general views of the Grand Hotel, transportation, native residents, gardens, churches and the yacht races. Particularly lovely in the spring season slides were the lilacs and the fields of forget-me-nots growing wild, and the colors of the autumn scenes were beyond description. Dramatic sky effects characterized every slide.

The group of 300 slides included unusual effects obtained by the artist in photographs taken in the early morning hours and in the evening at the time the sun is setting and street lights are just beginning to come on.

Open House at Library
At the business meeting Mrs. S.

W. Brennan announced that open house will be held at the Carnegie public library February 28 to March 5, in conformance with a state-wide observance. She urged practical application of the theme of the week, "Know your library, use your library and aid your library."

The club voted a $25 donation toward the Emma Fox fund.

Mrs. Victor Powers was chairman of the evening, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Anthony and Mrs. Henry Peterson.

Smart Girl Has
Friends Own Age

The school girl who passes up the companionship of classmates of her own age in favor of an older group may regret her shortsighted attitude.

When her older pals have graduated from school, the younger admirer may find herself without a circle of friends. And, if she has aired her preference for older companionship, her young pals are not apt to adopt a charitable attitude towards her loneliness. This doesn't mean that a girl need limit her friendship to her school class. A smart girl will make friends in every age group but her personal crowd should include boys and girls of her own age.

This is the time of year to examine your friendly alliances in school. If your friends are mostly older than yourself and will graduate in June, make an effort during these remaining months to broaden your group of pals. You'll be laying the groundwork for a happier time next year if you take a more active part in the affairs of your own class now.

RAY RIVERS RITES SAT'Y

Remains Of Youth Killed In Italy Sent Home

The body of Pfc. Raymond Rivers, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rivers, 1220 Wisconsin avenue, who was killed in action in Italy, will arrive here Friday morning and will be taken to the Skradski Funeral Home to repose until the hour of services.

Veterans
Louis Hillewaert, commander of August Mattson Post, American Legion, requests Legionnaires and other servicemen to report at the post hall at 9:15 o'clock Saturday morning to attend services for Pfc. Raymond Rivers.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday morning at 10:15 o'clock in All Saints Catholic church. Military honors will be accorded the departed hero with August Mattson Post, American Legion, in charge. Burial will be in the family plot in Gardens of Rest.

Pallbearers are to be James Shandonay, George Rivers Jr., Marvin Olive, Harry Lundin, and Peter DeMenter of Gladstone, and Robert LeHoullier of Escanaba. The rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 8 o'clock Friday night.

Rivers was born Feb. 19, 1923 at Kipling. He attended All Saints Parochial school and Gladstone high school and worked for a time at the Northwestern Plywood plant before enlisting in the Army on Dec. 10, 1942. He was trained at Camp Phillips, Kas., and Camp Forest, Tenn., and went overseas late in October of 1943. A machine gunner, he served with the 36th Division of the Fifth Army under General Clark. He participated in the action at the Anzio beachhead and in battles marking the advance of American forces through Rome. He was killed in northern Italy about 45 miles from Rome.

Rivers was awarded the Purple Heart, Silver Star and three battle stars. Surviving are the parents, five brothers, Edward, Arthur, Charles, Wilbur and Leonard and a sister, Madonna. There is also a grandmother, Mrs. Marie McIntosh.

When the UCLA basketball team dropped a 49-16 encounter to Wisconsin after winning six straight, the Bruins just failed to set a new school mark. Instead they tied the 1933-34 quintet's six straight record.

Kentucky's basketball team averaged more than 62 points a game during the 1947-48 season while opponents got only 39 per game.

Coach Roy Simmons, veteran coach of the Syracuse boxers, has developed 40 individual champions since becoming head coach.

Local Teacher Writes Magazine Article On Vocational Guidance

Miss Annette Adair Anderson, an instructor of languages in Manistique high school, is the author of an article entitled "No Program to Guide Them," in the current issue of the "Clearing House," a monthly magazine devoted to the interests of junior and senior high schools.

The editor's note, explaining the article, states that "in some high schools there isn't any particular plan for guidance. Students are more or less on their own in selecting courses and thinking, or not thinking, about their future life work. Miss Anderson tells (in the article) what she did in her tenth grade English classes to overcome the school's lack."

In the article she states that she was suddenly awakened to a problem which faces every adolescent boy and girl, while she was sitting around a camp fire with a group of 15-year-old Girl Scouts, and one of the group asked her how she chose her life's work.

In the discussion which followed the girls asked "Why do we so seldom talk about this problem when it faces each of us? Why do our teachers and counselors give us so little help in making a decision about a job after we finish school?"

No Guidance Offered

She found it hard to adequately answer these girls because the steps taken in the school where she attended failed in its efforts and the school in which she taught offers no such guidance.

Pondering over the subject she asked herself why her junior-high business teacher had failed. She came to several conclusions:

She had not begun to face the problem herself.

Her teacher's approach was weak. "She simply threw pamphlets at us and told us to write a theme."

The pamphlets did not answer the student's question.

The teacher failed to point a way to avenues of further investigation.

Determined to Help

Determined to help her students, she began a two-fold solo campaign. Her first attack was upon the individual student. She encouraged them to come to her after school and talk things over. They would come in one or two at a time, and sooner or later the conversations would turn to vocations. Sometimes she would bring up the subject herself. Whenever possible, she tried to help the students to plan intelligent courses.

Her second strategic maneuver was aimed at her tenth-grade English classes. She built a biography unit around vocations. Profiting by the mistakes of her own junior-high business teacher, she carefully analyzed her teachers' mis-strategy. This teacher's first failure concerned learning readiness.

Biographies Help

She went to the library and began looking for biographies. She wanted stories about contemporary people, men and women who were already known to the class for their success in life—Whose success seemed real. The results of her search were pitiful. She then sent to the state library and books came back in boxes: Sonja Hehle's "Wings on My Feet," Joe Louis, "American," Della Lute's "Country School Ma'am," and dozens of others.

She asked the students to imagine themselves successful in some kind of work ten years from now and write a theme about it. She used vocational guidance films to further this interest. She arranged interviews, revealing that they were both interesting and revealing. "Mr. Lundstrom, an automobile dealer, not only talked about auto salesmanship, but had many interesting things to tell us about work of an auto mechanic .... Miss McNamara, a

SKATING RACES HERE SATURDAY

Speed And Figure Skate Events Scheduled

Manistique boys and girls are looking forward to Saturday night when competitive races and figure skating events will be held. Entry blanks have been made available at the warming house for all interested skaters and a wide selection of awards in the medals and prizes is already on hand for the winners in the various events.

In place of the annual carnival, usually held on Washington's birthday, an evening of frolic for the kiddies has been arranged. Boys and girls will compete separately in age groups that will make a possible winner in any event. The age groups are divided into Mites, up to 8 years, Midgits 9 to 10, Juniors, 11 to 12, Seniors, 13 to 14 years, and the open class 15 and through the high school age level. In the figure skating department the skaters are putting on individual and group acts guaranteed to please the spectators.

Among the figure skaters will be such last year's favorites as Gail Lundstrom, Kathryn Greene, Sandra White, Shirley Monnette, Kay Boal, and others. Medals in silver and bronze will be awarded first and second place respectively, and in addition there will be valuable prizes to winners in the figure skating group.

Due to the fact that the Minnesota-Michigan football film will be shown at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock, the icecapade will get underway at 7 o'clock instead of the previously announced 7:30. No admission will be charged at the rink. Weather conditions being favorable a large crowd is expected again this year for one of the kiddie's fun nights.

When the Rhode Island University basketball team dropped a 58-48 decision to Connecticut it was only the third time in six years the Rams have failed to score more than 48 points.

The University of Connecticut's national championship soccer team yielded only four goals in taking 11 straight games last fall.

Masons And Wives Honor Memory Of George Washington

Local members of the Masonic order and their wives honored the memory of George Washington and incidentally spent a very enjoyable evening at observances at the Masonic hall Tuesday evening.

The events began with a 6:30 dinner served by the ladies of the Order of Eastern Star. This was followed by a special program in the lodge room.

On the program were three violin selections by Carl Olson and Norman Martin, accompanied at the piano by Miss June Christensen; several accordion numbers by Mrs. Seb Rubick and Mrs. G. Leslie Bouschor and an address on George Washington by Casey C. Wiggins, of the Northern Michigan College of Education, Marquette.

Will Represent County At U. P. Home Ec Meeting

Mrs. Harold Snyder, of Manistique, and Mrs. C. S. Johnson of Seney, will represent Schoolcraft county at the annual meeting of the Upper Peninsula Home Economics Council in Marquette Thursday and Friday.

Mrs. Frank Arrowood, Manistique township, will also attend the meeting. Mrs. Arrowood has been president of the Upper Peninsula Home Economics Council the past two years. Besides presiding at the meeting, Mrs. Arrowood will give a report of the Michigan State College Farm Women's Week and National Home Demonstration and Country Women's Council Convention held at Tulsa, Okla., last fall.

Mrs. Johnson, county home economics chairman, will report on the home economics program in Schoolcraft county.

The meeting is being held in conjunction with the February Extension conference.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Dorman, 729 Michigan avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Myriel Paulson, to Jay R. McKenzie of Pontiac. The wedding will take place in June.

Han Bale Dropped By Airlift Plane Kills Sheepherder

Salt Lake City, Utah, (AP)—A second victim Sunday. A bale of hay dropped from a plane struck and killed a sheepherder.

The victim identified as Willard Peacock, about 60, of Salina, Utah.

The first such fatality occurred earlier this month when a Navajo woman succumbed after being struck by a package tossed from a plane carrying supplies to snowbound Arizona Indians.

Capt. H. L. Stewart, public relations officer at Hill air base, Ogden, Utah, said Peacock was killed when two C-47's were dropping hay at a sheep camp approximately 50 miles northwest of Milford, in west central Utah.

Contest To Be Held Here
Early Next Month

Eighteen students of Manistique high school will participate in the local forensic contest to be held on or before March 15, according to Marvin Frederickson, director of speech in the school.

Entered in the oratorical declamation division limited to freshmen and sophomores are: Marlene Anderson, Jean Carlson, Loretta Hinkson, Mac Howland, Marlene Smith, Pat Popour, Margaret Mueller, Ann Marie Sheahan, Mary Ann Olesak, Joyce Martinson, Joan Norberg, and Margo Viereger; original oration: Shirley Rozich, Bill Corson, Hugh Kennedy; extemporaneous speaking: Harold Feiner and Dan Van Eyck. The only entrant in dramatic declamation is Joan Sheahan.

Two winners will be chosen in each division and they will represent Manistique in the district contest in April, competing with Gladstone and Escanaba. The first place district winners then compete for the regional honor.

The local contest in March will be an evening program and the public is invited.

Jailed Following Disturbance In Polling Place

For raising a disturbance at a polling place Monday afternoon, David Kinsloe, of Seney, must spend at least ten days in the county jail. He was fined $5 and costs and sentenced to spend ten days in the county lockup by Judge W. G. Stephens in justice court Tuesday morning.

Kinsloe, according to the complaint appeared at the Seney voting place while the primary election was in progress, in a drunken condition. He became abusive, used profane language in the presence of the women and when ordered to leave the building, refused to do so.

He was placed under arrest by Sheriff Howard Hewitt and lodged in the county jail, facing the judge next morning.

Eskys Hope To End Season On Happy Note By Tipping Kingsford Here Saturday

Stanley Cup Playoff Picture Clearing Up

By the Associated Press
With the season five-six gone, the lineup for the Stanley cup playoffs in the National Hockey league appears pretty well set.

Indians Gird For Battle At Soo Saturday

If the Soo Martins, top ranking and undefeated team in the U. P. Hockey wheel, can be beaten by a league team, the Gladstone Indians would like to be the team to turn the trick.

They'll get their big chance in Pullar stadium at the Soo Saturday night when they tangle with the Martins in their next to the last league engagement.

Thus far, the Indians have come closer than any sextet in the circuit to defeating the Martins. In fact, they had a 6-4 edge going into the final period in Gladstone not long ago, and the Martins managed to tally twice to gain a 6-6 deadlock.

That game has fired up the Indians no end for this Saturday melee. They'll be set to swing into a two-hour practice session this evening, starting at 7. And that will be it until they square off in the Soo Saturday night. Thirteen Indians will make the jaunt.

The Indians' final league game will be at Newberry Sunday, March 6.

Sports Mirror

(By The Associated Press)

Today a year ago—The New York Yankees traded Catcher Aaron Robinson and Pitchers Bill Wright and Fred Bradley to Chicago White Sox for lefthander Ed Lopat.

Three years ago—Army Fullback Doc Blanchard received the Sullivan award for his 1945 play at an A.A.U. luncheon in New York.

Five years ago—Marty Marion, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, was accepted for limited military service.

Ten years ago—Frank Demaree, veteran outfielder, signed his 1939 New York Giant contract.

ABC MEET DATA

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 24 (AP)—Pennsylvania and Jersey bowlers looked big in the ABC today. Joshua (Jake) Kimmelman, a 37-year-old Philadelphia floor covering contractor, hit a 279 game, for the high single of the tournament while rolling a 685 to take fourth place in the singles. Paul Laudenbach, 30, of Trenton, took fifth with a 674. Henry Bransby and George Beckenstein of Lancaster, Pa., rolled 1265 to take third in the doubles.

LIONS BEAT LEGIONS

The Gladstone Lions defeated the Gladstone Legions, 52-36, in Escanaba American League basketball play here. Cliff Gillis paced the victors with 22 points. Charley Lundmark pumped in 13 for the losers.

Spartans Try Hard But Lose To Irish, 43-41, In Van Alstyne Finale

East Lansing, Feb. 24 (AP)—Retiring basketball coach Ben F. Van Alstyne of Michigan State won two travelling bags but lost a ball game as his Spartans were beaten 43-41 by Notre Dame last night in their last home tilt of the season.

The MSC-men played their hearts out in the last half in the attempt to hand Van Alstyne a win in his final home court appearance as head man of the hoop team but the luck of the Irish held to stave off the rally.

Van Alstyne is retiring as head coach after the last basketball date of the year, a meeting with Ohio State Monday at Columbus, Ohio. The defeat gave him a losing season for his bow out as the Spartans now have a 9 won and 11 lost record.

The veteran Spartan coach announced his retirement after 23 years at MSC earlier in the season. He will remain at the school as head golf coach. His assistant, Al Kircher, will take over.

Michigan State almost accomplished a miracle as the Spartans came roaring back to make it a versal of form in the stretch—should qualify for the post-campaign series. Chicago and New York appear destined to watch from the sidelines.

The New York Rangers saw their hopes punctured last night when they bowed to the Boston Bruins, 3-2, before 11,416 at Madison Square Garden.

The Bruins, on the other hand, strengthened their hold on the No. 2 spot in the standings—eight points behind leading Detroit but four in front of Toronto.

Chicago, next to last, has 43 points and New York has 42, which means they must do some tall climbing in a very short time if they are to overtake fourth place Montreal, which has 47.

Montreal and Chicago have 11 games left, the other clubs ten.

Best In World To Compete At Iron Mountain

Iron Mountain, Mich., Feb. 24 (AP)—The best of American and European ski jumpers will shoot for the first 300-foot leap in American ski history in twin tournaments near here Saturday and Sunday.

Challengers of the giant Pine Mountain slide will include seven Olympic stars and virtually every other top-notch sky-flyer from this country and Scandinavia.

Petter Hugsted, U. S. champion and Olympic winner from Norway, and Matti Pietikainen and Leo Laakso of Finland head the European delegation.

Among the better-known U. S. stars are Art Devlin, Lake Placid, N. Y., daredevil; Art Tokle, brother of the late Torger Tokle; Walter Bieltia of Iron Mountain; his brother, Ralph, and Joe Perreault of Ishpeming, and Merrill Barber of Brattleboro, Vt.

Most of the jumpers are coming here direct from the national tourney at Salt Lake City where the Norwegian Hugsted won the American championship earlier this week.

The two separate meets in two days are expected to draw a crowd of about 30,000.

Torger Tokle leaped 289 feet at Pine Mountain in 1942.

U. S. 2-Miler Starts Running as Foreign Stars—in the Woods

State College, Pa., Feb. 24 (AP)—Curt Stone, one of the nation's top two-milers, is taking a hint from foreign track stars.

Stone, ex-Penn State runner and now circulation manager for the Centre Daily Times here, said today he is practicing less on formal track work.

Instead, like the European runners, he conditions himself over rough terrain—running long distances in wooded areas.

And it doesn't matter if it's raining.

"Perhaps I'm oversimplifying their methods," Stone says, "but in the main, what they do most is run, and little of it is done on a track."

"They run long distances over the hills, and through the woods. The routine seems to produce both speed and endurance."

In hopes of closing the season with a victory, the Escanaba Eskymos, who have come close to winning s-o-o-o many times this season, will take on the Kingsford Flivvers at the Escanaba junior high school gymnasium tomorrow night.

The game will get underway at 8:30 and will be preceded by a battle between the Escanaba and Kingsford reserves at 7 o'clock.

Prospects are not too bad for the Eskies to chalk up a triumph in this season finale.

When first the rivals met in Kingsford earlier in the season, the Flivs came out on top by a 33-30 margin.

With the advantage of playing on their home floor coupled with a bit more poise and punch when the chips are down, such as they displayed in stopping the Soo Blue Devils, 53-42, the Eskymos stand an excellent chance of taking the Flivs.

GREAT LAKES RACE

With one exception, the race for honors is already a cut and dried affair as the high school basketball season goes into its final weekend in the Upper Peninsula, the Associated Press reports. The exception is the Great Lakes conference, where the Marquette Redmen have an outside chance of dislodging the powerful Negaunee Miners in the home stretch.

At present, Marquette has a 7-2 record for the season against Negaunee's 8-1 mark. But Negaunee this weekend must face a surprising Munising quintet which last week extended Marquette to the limit before yielding 45-43. The Miners close their season with the Munising game.

On the other hand, Marquette still has two games to play, meeting Newberry Friday and Sault Ste. Marie Saturday. Should the Redmen win their two contests and Negaunee lose its only game, the laurels would go to Marquette on percentage points.

Conference Champions

Scheduled games in other conferences are mere formalities. Iron Mountain last week sewed up honors in the Menominee range by beating Kingsford. This week the Iron Mountain boys match up against Crystal Falls.

Other conference title-holders are Sacred Heart in the Copper Country league; Hurley (Wis.) whose 6-2 record is best in the Michigan-Wisconsin league; and St. Ambrose of Ironwood which topped all performers in the Parochial circuit.

As the season ends, only two quintets—Menominee and Vulcan—remain undefeated against Upper Peninsula opponents. Both, however, suffered losses at the hands of Wisconsin rivals.

Menominee has already ended its season, but Vulcan brings its 13-1 record to Felch for the season's nightcap.

Gophers Kayo Wolverines!

MC INTYRE SCORES—James Mc Intyre, Minnesota's 6 foot 9½ inch center, towers over other players as he scores in first period of game with Michigan at Ann Arbor, Mich. Minnesota players are: Harry Grant (13); Michigan: Bob Harrison (23); Leo VanderKuy (21); Harold Morrill (20) and Pete Elliott (25). Minnesota won, 54-47, and knocked the defending champion Wolverines out of 1949 Big Nine title consideration. (AP Wirephoto)

ESCANABA DAILY PRESS SPORTS

"It Seems To Me"

BY JIM WARD

Off the cuff: When Leno Pierpon, the Hermansville hot shot, scored 28 points against Negaunee last week, he broke the all-time Upper Peninsula high school season scoring record of 389 points held by Dick Hammerberg, onetime Crystal Falls star. . . . His spree netted him 392 points, and he has one game left to boost his total over the 400-mark. . . . Hermansville plays at Rapid River tomorrow night.

With the veteran Sverre Fredheim, of St. Paul, entered, the roster of Olympic jumping stars competing at Iron Mountain this weekend now numbers eight. . . . Seven other Olympic aces are: Petter Hugsted, the Olympic champion; Leo Laakso, Matti Pietikainen, Joe Perrault, Art Devlin, Walter and Ralph Bieltia. . . . Others just about on a par with the Olympic contenders are Gene Wilson, Art Tokle and Merrill Barber.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind relatives, neighbors and friends who assisted us during our recent bereavement. The death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Anna Johnson. We are very grateful to Rev. Fr. Joseph Schaefer for his consoling words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who served as pallbearers, furnished their cars, sent floral and spiritual offerings and all others who aided us in so many ways. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us. Signed: SONS AND DAUGHTERS. 7049-55-1t

In Memoriam
In loving memory of our beloved son and brother, William (Billy) Arthur Nelson, who passed away eleven years ago today, Feb. 24, 1938.
He was just a little white rosebud, An angel from birth to death.
But God called him home to Heaven, Before he was soiled here on earth.
Sadly missed by his parents, brothers and sisters:

Ensign

The Ensign P.T.A. met recently at the Stone Anderson school with Mrs. Edith Johnston presiding. Reports were received from two committees, appointed at the last meeting, to consider purchasing a hotwater heater for the school kitchen and a used sewing machine for 4-H Club girls.

Hjalmer Nelson reported his findings on the hotwater heater. The matter was referred to the next meeting. Mrs. Harold Gustafson reported that she had purchased a new sewing machine for 4-H Club use.

A bake sale will be held at the Magnusson Store at Ensign during Saturday, March 5, to raise funds for these.

After the business session, games were played and lunch served.

Personals

Mrs. Earl Kaiser recently attended the Delta County Cancer Society meeting at Escanaba.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Lindquist of Gladstone were recent guests at the homes of their daughters, Mrs. Steve Johnson and Mrs. Richard Lundquist.
